Okandan Glass Pattern Galery

Okandan Cam

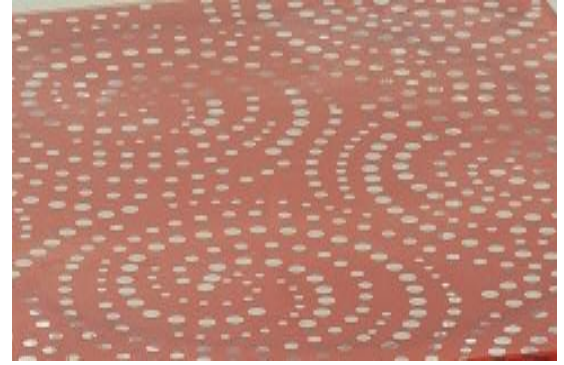

With the development of furniture sector, usage of Screen printed glass and mirror have increased. The demand for pattern printed products are increasing also day by day and it became the new trend in the furniture sector. Due to all these developments, our research department has created our new pattern galery. The patterns which are created by our research department , are individual patterns and can be applied on glass and mirror with many different colors. For customers not only the functionality, durability , dependability and safety, but also with pattern printed glass products, visuality has become an important speciality for furnitures.

Especially geometric, flower and line patterns are been used in furniture sector. The place , where we use furniture, is very important for the choose of patterns. If we use geometric patterns with vertical lines, it shows our ceiling higher . If we have a wide room, the patterns must be wide too. The room and the pattern sizes must be propotional.

Designers who would like to create modern furnitures for modern places , must take all details into account. With our research studies we also would like to help the designers to create modern places,. We will always continue to follow new trends and patterns to apply them on glass.
